

LIVING VOICE LEADERSHIP INTENSIVE

"Everyone can shine through."

For leaders and mediators, or those who have ambitions to become one.
Two workshop days with performance and voice training.

Living Voice Leadership is an intense workshop for people who would like to shine through. We help the participants develop their authentic expression and ability to master the stage, with professional voice training, focus on body language and skills from the theatre world.

Merete Nørgaard has developed and will deliver the program. Merete has a professional background as an actress and has a masters degree in theatre and voice training. She has helped many leaders in the Danish business and cultural sector to improve their appearance.

- Become an extraordinary intuitive speaker
- Learn to perform from the authentic you
- Master the stage as who you are – without preparation
- Transform yourself and the world through your performance
- Highlight your best performance – using new tools
- Two intense days with the possibility of individual training afterwards
- The main focus is on rehearsal, which is topped up with examples and theory

We cover Voice, Body, Breath, Story, and Purpose during the two days. Together, we will find your unique voice, create your story, strengthen your impact and help you collect yourself as a human being through your authentic personality.

We will develop creativity and imagination, transformative speaking, high performance as well as the art of improvisation as a reflection of your insight and listening skills.

The clients say:

"The Living Voice Leadership course has provided me with some strong and concrete tools on how to strengthen my impact and authority through my voice. I have more clarity on my strengths and skills as well as my own story, as a knock-on effect. Merete Nørgaard is a sharp mediator and extremely professional teacher. Her strong professionalism and ability to create a comfortable and safe atmosphere has been of great importance for me to get the most out of myself and the other participants in the course – and we had a great time together."

Patrik Gustavsson, business developer, ARC

"Merete Nørgaard set the stage from the very first word, and she helped us discover how each of us can work with our voice potential through great insight and professionalism. The voice is Alfa and Omega when it comes to the spoken word. You can learn so much about technical presentation tricks, but nothing matters if you don't have your voice with you. Brilliant and extraordinary course".

Per Korup-Lauridsen
Head of department, SAMPENSION Hellerup

"Very useful and directly applicable in daily management as well as performance and presentations."
